Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid posure; cat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of sating too much meat and other ich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. it is the function of the kidneys and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a mean of freeing the blood of this im purity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, hus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and singgish and fail to eliminate the tric acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the sysjoints and muscles, causing stiffsoreness and pain called

There is every possibility that the accompanying committee will be extremely large this year, as there isn't much to do around the Capitol, and traveling is good this time of year; above all, the sanctity and dignity of the mace must be preserved. The people of the entire country should be borrowed for an umbrella some night and not returned the House couldn't meet until it got a new mace. Whenever it is repaired solemn-visaged guards watch it every minute.

Now the old mace has been leaning a bit to the stabbard of late. Some of the punctilious members protested at a crooked mace, and the others kicked because it got on their nerves to see the old club wabbling about in its place. Therefore it will have to be repaired.

The people of the entire country should take over the charge of maintenance of the capital, and prize to see the leaning a great country such as the United States District Attorney Dailey completed the statement for the government just before court adjourned last name individual taxpayers should not be federal government already has control of management of the capital, and individual taxpayers should not be remitted to contribute to the expermitted to contribute to the expenses of the District.

Not Fair to District People.

"It is not fair, in my opinion, to compel the people who live in the District of Columbia to pay any share of the unusual and necessarily extravagant expenditures which are made for the upkeep and development of the capital of the nation. These expenditures should be borne by the people of the

"At the time the law was enacted," said Senator Blackburn, "I thought it was only approximately fair to the people of the District. I thought that it was more than fair to the federal government. Under the changed conditions, due to the large amount of land which the federal government has since taken by purchase or condemnation, thus withdrawing it from taxation. I think that the federal government now has considerably the best of the bargain."

Opposes Return to Old Conditions.

Senator Blackburn expressed the opinion that the joint select committee appointed to investigate and report to Congress on the fiscal relations of the District and the federal government would undoubtedly recommend a plan which would be beneficial.

which would be beneficial.

He spoke strongly against any suggestion of a return to the old conditions existing in the District before the enactment of the organic act, when Congress appropriated no fixed proportion of the annual expenditures of the District from the federal Treasury, but one year contributed from the federal Treasury perhaps 25 per cent of the total and the next year 50 per cent. Under such a system, he said, property values in the District could never be stable.
